

I am writing regarding the proposed limitations to prohibit XM radio from broadcasting traffic and weather reports. I am strongly opposed to any such restrictions as being in violation of a 1st Amendment right guaranteed by our Constitution. Additionally, I believe the only way such restrictions could be enforced is if radio and TV channels would in some way own a copyright or patent on such, and I am unaware of any such rights that can be owned on information to the general public. If XM is denied the right to broadcast weather and traffic, then I expect all other means of broadcasting will be prohibited also. Thank you.

Janice Demko